John Boner Neighborhood Center
Attn: Terri Bailey, Chief Operating Officer
2236 East 10th Street
Indianapolis, IN 46201

Dear Ms. Bailey:

Thank you for your time and interest in the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program Competition. As per the Program Application and Technical Assistance Committee's (PATA) Scoring, Ranking, and Reallocation policy, your project, Our Town, was scored based on the FY 2017 Scoring Tool, and then discussed in the PATA committee for potential inclusion in the rankings for the FY 2017 CoC Program Competition. On August 24, the Blueprint Council decided to reallocate the Boner Center Our Town project and not recommend the project to HUD for funding.

The decision not to include your project was based on the low score of the project, and a directive from HUD to reallocate from low performing projects to create new projects. While your project was not recommended to HUD for funding this year, we encourage you to consider applying for projects in the future. We invite you to participate in the CoC, including the PATA committee, which determines rankings.

Sincerely,

Jennifer J. Fults, Administrator

Tear Down the Walls Ministries
Attn: Brian Walls, Director
1020 West Roache Street
Indianapolis, IN 46208

Dear Mr. Walls:

Thank you for your time and interest in the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program Competition. As per the Program Application and Technical Assistance Committee's (PATA) Scoring, Ranking, and Reallocation policy, your application was reviewed and scored by a small group of non-conflicted CoC members, and then discussed in the PATA committee for potential inclusion in the rankings for the FY 2017 CoC Program Competition. The score for your project application was posted to the CoC website (Indycoc.org) on August 24, 2017. On September 7, 2017, the PATA committee decided not to rank your project this year. This decision was finalized when the rankings were voted on at the Blueprint Council meeting on September 11, 2017.

The decision not to include your project was based on concerns regarding threshold measures, as well as the size of the proposed project and application score. While your application was not recommended to HUD for funding this year, we encourage you to apply in the future. We invite you to participate in the CoC, including the PATA committee, which determines rankings. Going forward, please be aware of all CoC project priorities, which are heavily favored in the ranking process.

Sincerely,

Jennifer J. Fults, Administrator

The Damien Center
Attn: Traci Johnson, Housing Program Manager
26 North Arsenal Avenue
Indianapolis, IN 46201

Dear Ms. Johnson:

Thank you for your time and interest in the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program Competition. As per the Program Application and Technical Assistance Committee's (PATA) Scoring, Ranking, and Reallocation policy, your application for Damien Center Permanent Supportive Housing was reviewed and scored by a small group of non-conflicted CoC members, and then discussed in the PATA committee for potential inclusion in the rankings for the FY 2017 CoC Program Competition. The score for your project application was posted to the CoC website (Indycoc.org) on August 24, 2017. On September 7, 2017, the PATA committee decided not to rank your project this year. This decision was finalized when the rankings were voted on at the Blueprint Council meeting on September 11, 2017.

The decision not to include your project was based on concerns regarding threshold measures. HUD is not allowing expansion grants that will only expand services in this year's competition. While your application was not recommended to HUD for funding this year, we encourage you to apply in the future. We invite you to participate in the CoC, including the PATA committee, which determines rankings. Going forward, please be aware of all CoC project priorities, which are heavily favored in the ranking process.

Adult and Child Residential Properties
Attn: Joseph Breyer, ACRP General Manager
222 East Ohio Street, Suite 400
Indianapolis, IN 46204

Dear Mr. Breyer:

Thank you for your time and interest in the Continuum of Care (CoC) Program Competition. As per the Program Application and Technical Assistance Committee's (PATA) Scoring, Ranking, and Reallocation policy, your application for Helen Louise Apartments was reviewed and scored by a small group of non-conflicted CoC members, and then discussed in the PATA committee for potential inclusion in the rankings for the FY 2017 CoC Program Competition. On September 7, 2017, the PATA committee decided not to rank your project this year. This decision was finalized when the rankings were voted on at the Blueprint Council meeting on September 11, 2017.

The decision not to include your project was based on concerns regarding threshold measures, and the committee felt that there might be other funding streams that better fit your project. The City's Department of Metropolitan Development is currently considering your application for Section 108 loan funds through an underwriting process. Once the underwriting is complete, the DMD can discuss other more appropriate potential funding sources for the rehab project you are proposing. While your application was not recommended to HUD for funding this year, we encourage you to apply in the future. We invite you to participate in the CoC, including the PATA committee, which determines rankings. Going forward, please be aware of all CoC project priorities, which are heavily favored in the ranking process.

Sincerely,
